

Kiln Hwy. 603 route up in air

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

Kiln residents and business owners are still up in the air as to whether or not The Kiln will be bypassed when the Highway 603 project is extended from Stennis to Highway 43.

Mississippi State Highway Commissioner Ronnie Shows spoke to approximately 35 people Thursday afternoon, but could not give them the answer to the question they wanted. What will happen to Kiln?

Shows told the residents the sharp curve, just south of the intersection of Highway 603 and Kiln-Delisle Road, had to be straightened to state and federal guidelines. But, Shows said, prospective routes for the highway to take had not been determined yet.

"Aerial photographs have not been performed. Once we have those, we can chart possible routes," Shows said.

Those in attendance told Shows not one wreck in Kiln, that they knew of, had occurred in the curve, they had all occurred in the intersection, which is a straight section of highway.

Shows said that the intersection does not have enough traffic running east and west to warrant putting a stop light in

Tree Trails ribbon cutting set Feb. 11

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Ribbon cutting ceremonies are scheduled for Sat., Feb. 11, 10 a.m. for Hancock County's first Tree Identification Trails.

The first stop will be at Buccaneer State Park, Waveland, followed by the McLeod Water Park, and the Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock County Soil & Water Conservation District information coordinator Norma Ritch said, "This is the first time local people, as well as visitors from all over the country will be able to walk through the woods and know the kinds of trees the area offers."

The Tree Trail Identification was through funding by the Mississippi Forestry Commission Urban Development Grant and Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District that has made the educational/informational trails a reality.

The trails have been established at Buccaneer State Park, McLeod Water Park, and the Walking Track with plaques and posts to identify the many species of trees this area has to

Three arrested for food stamp fraud

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

Three women have been arrested and charged with food stamp fraud to the tune of $16,000.

Judy Moran, 34, Lark Street, Bay St. Louis has been arrested and charged with two counts of food stamp fraud and AFDC benefits fraud, Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda said.

Moran, as of Friday, was incarcerated in the Hancock County Justice Facility under $3,000 bond.

Francis Barnes, 51, Easterbrook Street, Bay St. Louis, was charged with food stamp fraud, and bond was placed at $2,000.

Annette Bell, 38, Auderer Boulevard, Waveland, was charged with food stamp fraud and was placed under $10,000 bond.

Hoda said the suspects' bond was placed at the same amount of their suspected fraud.

Hoda said the Mississippi Department of Human Services and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department are working together on this investigation and more arrests are pending.

"Human Services has its own investigator that investigated these cases. These suspects allegedly obtained the food stamps illegally or failed to report income," Hoda said.

Mauffray honored

Conrad Mauffray, left, is congratulated by David Treutel Jr., United Way Area Operating Committee chairman, for being awarded the Mae Beyer/Norton Haas Award, for his leadership and service to the Hancock County United Way. The presentation was made at the United Way of South Mississippi's Volunteer Recognition Banquet recently held in Gulfport. Mauffray was a long-time Hancock UW executive director and director. He was also involved with the formation of the United Way of South Mississippi which serves Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties.

Grant may be sought for beach sidewalks

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors discussed the possibility of sidewalks and comfort stations along Beach Boulevard's sand beach at Thursday's workshop session.

The supervisors have been presented a plan for sidewalks that would extend from Washington Avenue to Coleman Avenue.

Supervisor Alton "Dolph" Kellar asked if it wouldn't be cheaper to put the sidewalks on the beachside of Beach Boulevard instead of the land side due to utilities, safety and the possibility of one day having to widen the street.

Bill Mitchell affirmed this, and saw no problem with making the change, except that in the event of a storm portions of the sidewalk may be damaged.

The sidewalks could be constructed with the help of 80 percent matching grants.

There was some concern from the supervisors as to whether or not the funding was there for the project.

"You don't pass up a grant of this kind if you can get it," supervisor Wilmer Seymour said.

Kellar agreed, but was concerned about the funding. The supervisors told Mitchell to go ahead with the grant application, which has a deadline of Feb. 6.

There is no grant available for the comfort stations and the county would have to come up with the funding for that project.

The project will most likely be done in phases, the supervisors agreed.

New Bay P&Z members receive briefing of task

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Members of the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission -- most of them newly appointed -- met Wednesday to get a better feel for what lies ahead as commissioners.

While still familiarizing themselves with the city's existing zoning ordinance, the commission was reminded they need to delve into the draft of a comprehensive plan concerning the city's development scheme over the next two decades.

Members of the commission worked on that plan's details last year, but four of the seven members currently in office were only recently appointed.

Les Fillingame, who served as chairman of the previous commission, told the new group Wednesday the plan's final chapter should be complete in a couple of weeks. That section is a capital improvements outline for implementing the major recommendations in the plan.

While adoption of the comprehensive plan won't change the city's existing zoning regulations, officials expect to use it as a basis for a new zoning ordinance.

Commissioners agreed they should begin holding workshops for briefings on the draft document within a few weeks.

Meanwhile, Fillingame and City Attorney John Scafile briefed the commission on their responsibilities to make recommendations on variances, special exceptions and other zoning code matters.

Fillingame said the commission is responsible for some duties that once were performed by a Board of Adjustment, a body that was written out of the zoning ordinance several years ago. But re-creating such a board, he said, probably will be recommended in the final comprehensive development plan.

Generally, the commission was told to remember they are an advisory body only, making recommendations for action by City Council.

"If you follow the ordinance and satisfy yourselves you've followed the guidelines, that's all you can do," Scafile said.

All we have now are memories and your picture in a frame.

Your memory is our keepsake with which we will never part.

God has you in his keeping. We have you in our hearts.

A million times we needed you, a million times we cried.

If love could have saved you, you never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly. In death we love you still.

In our hearts you hold a place no one can ever fill.

It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone.

SAFELY HOME

I am home in Heaven, dear ones; Oh, so happy and so bright! There is perfect joy and beauty In this everlasting light. All the pain and grief is over, Every restless tossing passed; I am now at peace forever, Safely home in Heaven at last. Did you wonder I so calmly Trod the valley of the shade? Oh! but Jesus' love illumined Every dark and fearful glade. And He came Himself to meet me In that way so hard to tread; And with Jesus' arm to lean on, Could I have one doubt or dread? Then you must not grieve so sorely, For I love you dearly still; Try to look beyond earth's shadows, Pray to trust our Father's Will. There is work still waiting for you, So you must not idly stand; Do it now, while life remaineth— You shall rest in Jesus' land. When that work is all completed, He will gently call you Home; Oh, the rapture of that meeting, Oh, the joy to see you come! We love you and miss you very much.

Bay beach slowed when Corps official retires

BY MARY G. SEILEY
City plans to renourish the Bay St. Louis downtown shoreline have stalled, temporarily. Officials are waiting a final sign-off from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on the project, an approval that was expected weeks ago.

But retirement of a key Corps official in November dealt the final approval a setback, said Les Fillingame, who has spearheaded the project for the city.

The official, John Winn, retired before approving final papers on the project. That meant, said Fillingame, other Corps officials had to familiarize themselves with the project before allowing it to go forward.

Although the Corps had approved all aspects of the project, city officials made an amendment concerning the depth that they would dredge a borrow pit north of the Highway 90 bridge. That amendment had to be approved by the Corps.

Fillingame said city officials expect the final approval any day, leading to an immediate advertisement for bids.

Officials want to create a protective sand berm stretching from Booker Street northward toward the bridge, avoiding several areas of marsh grasses.

Last year, city officials tried to get the work accomplished by the firm which renourished the waterfront beach southward from Washington Avenue. However, the contractor doing that work for Hancock County wrapped up work and left town before the city program was finalized.

Even with final approval by the Corps, it's unclear when the city program will begin. State Department of Marine Resources officials are leary of the city dredging during brown shrimp season, between March and May.

Fillingame said, however, the startup date is negotiable, since officials at this point don't know what the critical dates will be for the brown shrimp season.

The city will advertise for bids immediately upon receiving the final Corps permit, he said, and study variable proposals from contractors.

Some companies already have expressed an interest in bidding on the project, Fillingame said.

place. He said there was enough north-south traffic, but all requirements must be met or "the feds" will force its removal.

When asked what say the community would have in the placement of the highway, Shows said that public hearings would have to be held if the state used any federal money on the project.

But that is not the case if state monies are to be used.

Shows said towards the end of the meeting a definite route should be known by the fall, and a public hearing is possible in the summer.

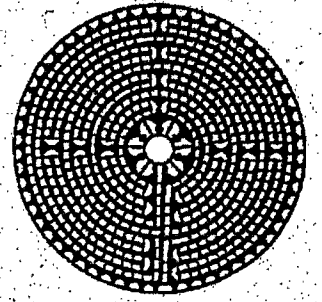

Shows was also asked about the current status of the highway construction underway from Highway 90 to Stennis International Airport.

Shows said because of a combination of the pending lawsuit between SCI, the contractor on the project, and a shortage of fly ash, the project has been halted and probably won't restart until some settlement has been made.

Shows said the state and the contractor were expecting to sit down for talks Friday and would hopefully reach some sort of settlement.

Post 139 reorganizes Sons of the Legion

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 of Bay St. Louis is reactivating the Sons of the American Legion.

John Wilkerson, Sons of the American Legion chairman, said, "We know that many legionnaires have sons who are eligible and there are quite a few members who are eligible to belong to both the Legion and Sons of the American Legion."

There-organizational meeting of the Sons of the American Legion is set for Monday, Feb. 9, 6:30 p.m. at the Legion Home, Green Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

Wilkerson can recall when Post 139's Sons of the American Legion was a very vital part of the community and involved in many civic endeavors.

Wilkerson said, "Just a word or two about eligibility, sons of veterans who belong to the American Legion are eligible and sons of veterans who are deceased are eligible, even if their father was not a member of the American Legion. The only requirement being that he served during the eligibility dates of the American Legion."

"There is no age limit. Grandsons and great-grandsons are also eligible, as long as the person they are joining under meets the aforementioned requirements. Step-sons are also eligible under their step-father, step-grandfather, or step-great-grandfather," Wilkerson added.

Wilkerson continued, "If you are a member of the Legion and you meet the requirements of the SAL, we urge you to join. There are many legionnaires across the country who hold dual memberships."

For further information, contact Wilkerson at 467-6098.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I have notice three pot holes coming to life in the east lane of Highway 90 between Ulman and Dunbar avenues in Bay St. Louis.

I am hoping the Highway Department will address the pot holes before they get too big.

Highway 90 receives heavy traffic, and I guess the recent rains are the main factor in causing the pot holes.

It dose not take a pot hole too long to grow when there is heavy traffic on a highway.

While on the subject of highways, I realize there are many concerned citizens who are wondering about the status of the Highway 603 four-laning in Hancock County.

From what we have been able to gather, there is a shortage of some materials needed to stabilize the road's base.

This goes along with a suit which has been filed in Hancock County Circuit Court by the contractor against the Mississippi Department of Transportation. I sure hope the suit does not hamper the progress on the most important and only highway from north to south in our county.

We have already been waiting far too long for the completion of the four-laning of dangerous Highway 603.

I can remember when Highway 603's elevation was raised in early 1960, and it seemed the project would never be completed then.

Highway 603's current work was scheduled for a 1994 completion date, and we sure know it was not completed in that year.

It is our understanding the project, which began in October 1992, is now approximately 70.52% complete and needs another season before it is finalized.

Hopefully it will be completed in 1995.

Help is needed Saturday, Feb. 4 starting at 8:30 a.m. at Buccaneer State Park.

The Hancock County Soil & Water Conservation District will install identification plaques and posts for the Tree Identification Trail.

All types of help can be used, such as digging holes for posts and installing plaques on the posts by the trees.

This has to be done at Buccaneer, McLeod Water Park and the Hancock Walking Track.

The more volunteers who come out and help, the faster the project is completed.

The reason for the rush, of course, is ribbon cutting for the tree trails set for the following Saturday.

Much effort has been done by the Soil & Water Conservation District in making preparation for the tree trails.

Funding for the tree identification trails was through a grant from the Mississippi Forestry Commission and the Hancock County Soil & Water Conservation District.

Anyone interested in helping, or wanting further information, may call 255-3225.

I hope to see you there.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI SENATE

By Senator Bill Johnson

Jan. 31 is deadline for reporting general bills

Jan. 31 is the deadline for reporting general bills and constitutional amendments originating from the Senate.

Some bills reported by the committees addressed topics including child support collections; repayment of state income taxes on federal retirement benefits; amending Mississippi's Constitution; and smoking in state office buildings.

Members of the Public Health and Welfare Committee voted 8-6 to approve Senate Bill 2368 which would extend the pilot program on delinquent child-support collections. Committee members were presented with the results of a performance and program compliance audit conducted by an internal division of the Department of Human Services.

Auditors reviewed child-support collections figures from statewide workers and Maximum private employees.

Results indicated that the state pays 89 cents for every dollar of child-support collected, while Maximum requires 45 cents to collect each dollar.

Maximum also received higher percentage points on meeting state policy requirements and meeting current federal standards than did state employees.

The bill now goes before the Appropriations Committee for further consideration.

The Finance Committee passed Senate Bill 2065 which allows persons who paid state income taxes on federal retirement benefits from 1985-1989, but have not filed an amended return, to make a claim to the State Tax Commission prior to Dec. 31, 1995.

Resolutions to amend the State Constitution passed the Senate Constitution Committee and could eventually be approved by Mississippi voters in the November 1995 elections.

Measure to authorize judges to deny bail to persons previously convicted of violent offenses and disqualify convicted felons from voting received majority votes in the committee. Violent offenses considered to deny bail include murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault or non-negligent manslaughter.

The Public Property Committee reported a bill that would restrict smoking in state office buildings. Current Health Department statistics depict only 24 percent of Mississippians as smokers. People violating the proposed regulations would be subject to a fine up to $100.

Committee action was also taken on some bills addressing transportation for disabled children to schools; increase foster care support payments; create a fire department assistance fund; require the names of candidates for each separate office to be listed on the general election ballot alphabetically; no time limit on search for tax sale land lien; establish crime of exposure to HIV; authorize medical leave pooling plan under state employee leave law; and authorize certain facilities for mentally handicapped juvenile offenders.

Work by the committees is scheduled to continue until the deadline at midnight Tuesday, Jan. 31.

Feb. 9 marks the deadline for action to be taken on the general bills and constitutional amendments originating in the Senate.

During the 1995 session, Senator Johnson may be reached at P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215 or by calling 359-3770.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

By Representative Harry Frierson

A weekly summary

More than 160 bills are awaiting floor action in the House or Representatives following one of the busiest weeks of the 1995 legislative session, and the number continues to increase as committees conclude their work and spend proposals to the full House for consideration.

Several proposals received a double committee referral and are pending in the second committee to which they were assigned. It is part of the normal legislative process for many bills to be sent to two committees for study when a measure involves separate issues or an expenditure of public funds.

One of the major bills winning committee approval during the week was a measure recommended by the Agriculture Committee to authorize a special grant program to assist counties in construction and improvement of local livestock facilities. However, the measure also must be approved by the Appropriations Committee before going to the House calendar.

The legislation calls for the allocation of more than $4 million over a three-year period, starting with an initial $1,050,000 in the coming fiscal year and $1.5 million in each of the next two years. The money would be placed in a special fund in the state treasury and used solely for providing grants to livestock associations in the various counties or Boards of Supervisors if there are no such associations in a county.

Each county would get an equal share of $50,000 over the three-year period except the smaller counties of Sharkey and Issaquena, which would get $25,000 apiece.

The program would be administered by the Cooperative Extension Service, and two or more counties would be allowed to combine their share of the grant money for construction of one large livestock facility in an area.

Another measure getting a lot of attention was a proposal by the Public Health and Welfare Committee to remove a statewide moratorium on issuing Certificates of Need for new or expanded home health agencies.

The legislation, if finally enacted, would clear the way for rural hospitals or other groups to seek approval for home health operations. A committee amendment was adopted allowing the state Board of Health to transfer its home health agencies to the University Medical Center or, in the board's discretion, to a locally owned community hospital.

An amended bill measure was passed by the House to allow current school board members receive an annual salary of $2,400 rather than the $40 per diem they now get for attending up to 36 meetings a year.

It would not apply to federal employees who may be prohibited by federal law from getting a salary while serving on a local school board.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

By Representative J.P. Compretta

Major deadline looming

With a major deadline looming for committee action, members of the House of Representatives worked at an accelerated pace in the past week on a broad spectrum of key issues ranging from teachers' pay to juvenile violence to a plan aimed at assisting district attorneys in the war against crime.

Highlights of the week included approval of a proposed teacher pay raise by the House Education Committee but, in view of the cost involved, the legislation also will have to clear the Appropriations Committee before being released to the crowded House calendar.

There was an avalanche of bills involving insurance laws, agriculture, health care, correctional programs, highways, game and fish issues, and numerous other matters in a concerted drive to meet a January 31 deadline for House and Senate committees to report general bills and constitutional amendments originating in their own chambers.

Teacher salaries in Mississippi still rank below the Southeastern average although the Legislature has approved back-to-back pay hikes for teachers the past two years and authorized full funding of health insurance for all school personnel.

The Education Committee's plan called for an average increase of $1,085 in the coming year, including additional increment payments based on years of teaching experience.

The bill would require an additional $28 million according to estimates by the Department of Education.

A new unit would be set up in the state Attorney General's office to provide legal assistance to District Attorneys in the battle against crime under a revamped bill approved by the Judiciary "A" Committee.

Under the measure 10 prosecuting attorneys would be shired to work out of the new division, making them available for temporary assignment upon request to DA's to assist in prosecution of criminal offenses.

The bill was a substitute for a proposal that originally would have provided 33 additional assistant District Attorneys around the state at an estimated cost of more than $2.5 million. The measure, as redrawn by the committee, still authorized one additional assistant prosecutor in each of five districts (District 3, 7, 13, 14 and 16) regarded by the committee as having the greatest need.

In other action, the House approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would require the State Supreme Court and the new intermediate Court of Appeals to render a decision within 180 days after final briefs are filed in a case.

The House also approved a number of bills from the country Affairs Committee, including a proposal to allow Boards of Supervisors contribute funds to residential group homes for abused or neglected children.

A list of the bills introduced in the House can be found at the City-County Library on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis.

If anyone has any questions, comments or needs any information concerning upcoming legislative matters, Representative Compretta can be contacted at the Capitol in Jackson or in Bay St. Louis, Jackson — (601) 359-3326, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215-1018, Bay St. Louis — 467-6515, P.O. Box 128, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520-0128.

BREWER'S WORLD

By Jimmie Brewer

Good Super Bowl Sunday morning to you folks. Time to drag that old highschool football helmet out of your closet, fire up a pot of good old fashioned Super Bowl chili, kick that lazy cat out of the easy chair and settle in for a day of football and fun.

There is gonna be a whole lot of wagering going on today in the world. They'll be plenty of dudes coming home tonight with their tails tucked between their legs, a far away look in their eyes, and an empty wallet in their back pocket. Dudes will be receiving the same excuses women have been getting for a thousands of years: "Honey, I would have won if it weren't for the lousy officiating." And women will be giving the same response that has been passed down for generations: "I hope the couch will be comfortable enough for you tonight."

I personally prefer snoring in a real bed, so I keep my bets down to no more than a buck or at the most a six-pack.

Apparently folks will be betting on everything from who wins the coin toss to how many large salty pretzels will be sold during the first quarter. I personally will be scanning the audience to look for the most creative spectators. After all I am a master at sports spectating.

If you're a San Diego fan - how in the world do you dress up as a lightning bolt? And, what is a 49er anyway?

I'll be checking to see if the cameras catch Dan Dierdorff, the ABC sports analyst who has been seen on numerous dieting commercials, stuffing a foot long chili dog in his mouth. I'll be checking out his tie for mustard stains.

I'll be checking to see if Joe Montana, the former mega superstar for the 49ers is among the audience carrying

Pass the mustard!

Steve Young's (current 49er superstar) athletic supporter.

I'll be watching out to see what percentage of the audience had a little to much fun at the pre-game tail gate parties. And how many of them will spend the entire third and fourth quarters in the latrine resting on the cool porcelain fixtures.

I for sure will be checking out the cheerleaders and trying to determine which ones are real and which ones are implants.

Oh yeah, as for the game itself and my prediction, 49ers six million, Chargers three.

Praise for do-gooders this week goes out to the police who busted the food stamp abuse.

Keep it up dudes. Peace. Send comments to: Brewer's World, The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521-2009.

Bay St. Louis High School, Jackson Landing site designated as landmarks

The (old) Bay St. Louis High School and the Jackson Landing Site Amendment Area in Hancock County have been designated Mississippi Landmarks by the Permit Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History.

An excellent example of the architectural eclecticism of the 1920s, the (old) Bay St. Louis High School is typical of the larger urban-type all-grade schools and high schools built in Mississippi during the 1920s.

Stylistically, the building is an eclectic interpretation of Spanish Colonial revival architecture. Now the Bay St. Louis Middle School, the building is a contributing element of the Beach Boulevard Historic District.

In 1985 the state-owned portion of the Jackson Landing-Mulatto Bayou site was designated a Mississippi Landmark. The site dates to between about 400 B.C. and 500 A.D. and contains the largest extant prehistoric earthwork in Mississippi.

Archaeologists have recently discovered remnants of prehistoric habitations dating to circa 400 B.C. in the area north of Jackson Landing. The Mississippi Landmark site has now been expanded to include this Amendment Area.

Mississippi Landmark status is awarded to properties that have been reviewed and found architecturally, culturally, or historically significant to the development of Mississippi history.

While public buildings automatically fall under the jurisdiction of the Permit Committee, private property owners must request that their properties be considered for designation. The property is then protected from alteration or destruction under the Antiquities Law of Mississippi. The Mississippi Landmark program is administered by the Department of Archives and History.

"THAT'S A GOOD CHRYSLER PAW PAW"

Hebert to seek re-election

Curt Hebert, chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission has announced he will seek four more years at his current post, consisting of Mississippi's southernmost 27 counties.

Hebert has served two and one-half years as Public Service Commissioner of the Southern District and is currently chairman of the Public Service Commission.

Previously, he was elected to the House of Representatives in 1987 and served until he left in June of 1992 for the appointment of the Public Service Commission.

While in the House of Representatives, he rose to the position of chairman of the Oil and Gas Committee and had a perfect attendance record throughout his tenure.

Currently Hebert is serving on the Electric Committee of the National Association of Regulatory Commissioners and is on the executive committee of the Southeastern Regulatory Commission.

He is nationally recognized speaker on performance-based regulation, which is moving utilities of today into the competitive arena.

Hebert says, "It is important that utilities become competitive so as to act more like Mississippi's businesses and less like big government. In other words, meet the needs and desires of the rate payers."

Hebert's primary goals have been to restore integrity to the Commission, bring competition to the utility industry, and place all major utilities on performance-based regulation plans to force them to get ready for competition. He says, "Utilities rates in Mississippi are competitive and in most cases well below average, but we still have work to do."

Hebert has a BS degree in liberal arts from the University of Southern Mississippi, and a doctor of juris prudence from Mississippi College School of Law. He is married to the former Virginia Lane of Columbus, and they have two daughters, Lane Elizabeth and Ashley Ann. Hebert and his family live in Pascagoula and are members of the First United Methodist Church.

State auditor's slot sought by Zimmerman

Carl Zimmerman has qualified to seek the office of State Auditor of Public Accounts. In making his announcement, Zimmerman said, "It is my commitment to the people of Mississippi to be the first real auditor the taxpayers have had in 75 years."

"I will act in the best interest of the people and for the concerns of all taxpayers. My first priority will be to audit the departments of state and local government that have never been really audited in the past."

"I will not use the office as a stepping stone in the political stream, but will turn the tide of government 'to' the people by special interest back again to 'of, by and for the people.'"

Zimmerman is from Pontotoc and running in the Republican primary.

Zimmerman said, "One thing

I will ask the voters to do is to elect a State Attorney General and District Attorneys who will mobilize their staffs, take them out of their ivory towers and put them in the trenches to prosecute those who have been taking advantage of the people by 'breaking, twisting and ignoring the constitution and laws' of Mississippi, which are designed to protect the people."

Zimmerman, in 1980, at the age of 27, was honored by his peers in the Mississippi Farm Bureau as the Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year. In 1977 his family farm was proclaimed a centennial farm by Commissioner Ross.

Zimmerman's wife, Laurie, is a native of Collins, and they have two sons, Kyle and Brad, and one daughter, Marlena, who are students.

Baxter announces for insurance commissioner

A Burnsville man announced his candidacy for state insurance commissioner. Jay Baxter, a former Alcorn County resident, qualified for the state office as a Republican.

A native of Hardeman County, Tenn., Baxter moved to Corinth in 1956. He graduated from Alcorn Central High School in 1963 and completed two years at the Life Underwriters Training Council.

Baxter, 51, has been an insurance agent for four years. He was a mobile home dealer and salesman for four years. Both of these fields are regulated by the insurance commissioner, Baxter said.

"I want to put integrity and leadership back in the insurance department," Baxter said. "I believe the insurance department needs, and the people of Mississippi deserve, a strong leader."

The insurance department should work for the people of Mississippi and not for the big insurance companies, Baxter said. "I will not let the big bucks of the insurance companies influence me but will work for and represent all of the people of Mississippi," he said.

If elected, Baxter said there are several areas of the insurance industry he will address. One particular area which needs attention is workmen's compensation, he said.

Mississippi has a strong insurance field, he said. "It is a big business and it should be treated that way," Baxter said.

Baxter said he has been considering the race for insurance commissioner for four years. "It was not a sudden decision," he said.

Baxter has a variety of work experiences. He has owned and managed several radio stations in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. He owned a department store for six years. He started in the musical entertainment business at age 14 and played with such rockabilly stars as Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins and Charlie Rich.

Currently he is partner in a Quick Lube business and owns a local race track in Corinth. He is an insurance agent with Union National Insurance Company.

Baxter is married to the former Kathy Jourdan Williams. The couple has four children.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caïre

It's meat-and-potatoes time

"It's a meat-and-potatoes-meal today," a friend of mine observed a few days ago, as she plucked winter vegetables from the displays in the produce department of one supermarket. Already in her basket were a quarter pork loin sliced into chops, along with a beef round steak and a baking hen. It was clear that she meant business in the kitchen!

Most of us would agree that it's "heartly meal" time, with the weather changing from day to day — drizzling or raining and stormy, then sunny and warmer the next day. I find myself getting the big old soup pot out of the kitchen cabinet more often and doing more baking of various sorts. How about you?

Our stores are doing their part as well, offering good prices on full-cut beef round steaks, for example, as well as one of the above-mentioned pork cuts and baking hens. Whole fryers are a good buy, also, as are the picnic hams. There are mounds of potatoes, white or sweet as you wish. Let's not forget to scoop up vegetables and salad-makings to go along with all this.

the bright navel oranges, the grapefruit and the apples, for example. These pair well with chops and roasts and chicken dishes, adding that special "chase-away-the-winter-blues" tang to meals.

As for what I'll do with the quarter loin I brought home from the market, here's:

SKILLET PORK CHOPS

6 pork chops
2 Tblsp. oil (or use cooking spray)
1 cup uncooked long-grain rice
3/4 tsp. chili powder
1/2 cup chopped bell (green) pepper
6 bell (green) pepper rings
1/2 cup tomatoes (canned)
3/4 cup shredded process American cheese
Pepper, salt to your taste

Brown the chops in a large skillet, and drain off excess fat which accumulates. Add the chili powder and black pepper together and sprinkle over the chops. Add the rice and chopped green pepper and spoon the tomatoes over the chops and rice.

Cover the skillet, and cook the mixture over low heat for a half hour to 35 minutes, until chops are tender. Stir occasionally to keep chops from sticking to skillet. Add green pepper rings atop pork and rice combination, and cook for 5 minutes longer. Sprinkle with the cheese, and cover the skillet again, cooking until cheese melts. (6 servings)

And, here's:

ORANGE-GLAZED PORK CHOPS
4 (3/4-inch thick) pork chops
1 Tblsp. oil
1/2 cup fresh squeezed orange juice
2 Tblsp. orange marmalade
2 Tblsp. brown sugar
1 Tblsp. vinegar
Pepper, salt to your taste
Flour for dredging chops

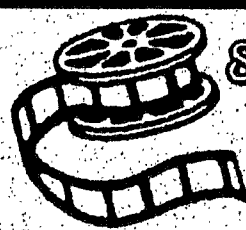

Sprinkle the chops lightly with pepper and salt and dredge in flour. Heat the oil in a heavy skillet, and brown chops on both sides. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing well, and pour over the chops. Reduce the heat, cover the skillet and simmer for 40 to 45 minutes, basting from time to time. (4 servings)

How about almond rice and green beans with this?

United Way honors Mauffray and Roy

The United Way of South Mississippi held its annual volunteer recognition banquet Jan. 18 at the Holiday Inn, Airport. Some 80 participants attended the dinner.

The banquet is held each year to honor the volunteers for their hard work and special achievements.

Conrad Mauffray of Bay St. Louis was presented with the Mae Beyer/J. Norton Haas Award. The award, which is presented to a volunteer of Hancock County, was established by United Way in honor of May Beyer and J. Norton Haas in recognition of service and leadership.

Mauffray is a very active citizen. Though his accomplishments are too numerous to mention, highlights of his community service follow:

Mauffray has been active with United Way for many years. He served as executive director of the United Way of Hancock County from 1974 until 1992. He was co-chairman of the 1973 campaign.

Most recently he served as a member of the transition team, which founded the present structure of United Way of South Mississippi.

Mauffray retired from Coast Electric Power Association after 40 years of service. He was selected as Outstanding Citizen of the Year in 1992 by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

He was also the 1985 recipient of the American Legion Community Award.

He has held several offices in the Waveland Civic Association and was treasurer of the Board of Trustees of Hancock General Hospital, on the executive committee of the Harrison-Hancock County Private Industry Council, and statewide president of Mississippi Electric Power Association Credit Union. He is also an officer in the Bay-Waveland Elks.

He is an active member of our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Hancock Chamber of Commerce, the Retired Senior and Volunteer Program and the Bay St. Louis Rotary.

Mauffray was active in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre and has been active in several carnival krewes.

A resident of Bay St. Louis, Mauffray and his wife, the former Marie Parker, are the parents of five grown children with 17 grandchildren.

Jimmie Roy, chief of the Systems Logistics Support Fight in the 81st Logistics Support Squadron, Keesler Air Force Base, received the Dr. Joe Holloway Award, established by United Way in honor of Dr. Joe Holloway. The award is presented to a volunteer in Harrison County in recognition of service and leadership.

Mack McCluskey of Dupont was recognized as outgoing president. Rick Stewart of South Central Bell was introduced as the incoming president.

Additional outgoing board members recognizes included Steve Howard, Allen Goff, Avis Hayes, Sybill Jarrell and Tim Ryan.

Members going off the area operating committees included: Harrison: Jim Compton, Greg Crapo, Bill Peden and Henry "Skip" Haller; Pearl River: Allen Goff.

Officers from the 1994 campaign were also honored. They were Rick Stewart of South Central Bell, vice president for campaign; Sandra Barker of Picayune, vice president for operations; Hilda Bourg of Diamondhead, vice president for assessment; and Ben Young, CPA, treasurer.

Volunteers serving on the fund distribution and campaign committees were among the attendees honored at the banquet. Area businesses were recognized for their campaign participation.

In addition, new board and AOC members were introduced at the event.

UWSM has 47 member agencies serving Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River counties.

Taylor says $40 billion bailout is absurd

Standing by his commitment to put American economic and job interests first, South Mississippi Congressman Gene Taylor announced Thursday he will vote against the Clinton Administration's proposed $40 billion bailout of the drowning Mexican Peso.

"With the United States facing its biggest trade deficit in history this year, a whopping $152.5 billion, to consider a bailout of the Mexican Peso is simply absurd," Taylor said.

"If we're going to expect hard-working Americans to ask less from their government, how can Washington justify asking Americans to buy a $40 billion loan guarantee?"

Some analysts are calling the loan guarantee not only a bailout of the Peso, but of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

Taylor voted against the measure, which Clinton and a bi-partisan congressional group pushed to pass last year, creating a free trade zone between the U.S., Mexico and Canada.

Like NAFTA, the loan guarantee will put more American jobs at stake. Each $1 billion in exports means 20,000 American jobs. Therefore, the drop in exports means a loss of 94,000 American jobs. In the meantime increased imports from Mexico will displace tens of thousands of other American workers.

Specifically, in south Mississippi, some 700 light manufacturing jobs have already been lost as a result of the free trade agreement.

"First we give them our jobs, now we want to give them our money, it just doesn't make sense," Taylor said.

And the loan is not risk-free, as outstanding foreign loan guarantees stood at $51 billion at the end of 1993, and will reach an estimated $200 billion at the end of Fiscal Year 1994. Currently, the trade imbalance with Mexico equals $8 billion.

In addition to cuts proposed to reduce America's $203,000,000 annual operation deficit and $4,800,000,000,000 national debt. Taylor was informed by fellow members of the National Security Committee that the Department of Defense budget will have a short fall of at least $47 billion.

"Certainly America's defense is more important than Mexico's," Taylor said.

Taylor said he is also strongly opposed to the loan guarantee package, as it will ultimately help those who may have caused the Peso's demise.

"We must do more than preach self-reliance," said Taylor. "We must tell wealthy Mexican investors we can't help them."

Jr. Rocks down Cajuns—Gagnon hits hat trick

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The St. Stanislaus Junior High soccer team traveled to New Orleans on Monday to take on the Metairie Park Country

Day Cajuns and defeated them by the score of 5-1. Jonathan Gagnon led the way by turning in the hat trick. Gagnon scored three goals in the game. Trevor Kingston and John Rich each added one goal in the win. The team's record now stands at 5-2.

The Cajuns opened the scoring with a breakaway goal in the first half, but were shut down for the remainder of the match. Defensive leaders included Edward Flores, Chris Genin, Brandon Everett, Chad Ourso, Jeremy Edwards, and Raphael Llanos. Justin Wadsworth and Nick Middleton shared goalkeeping responsibilities providing excellent backup for the defense.

Applying pressure up front for the Rock-a-chaws were Jason Rieben, Antonio Navarro, Kyle Kidd, Brandon Lewis, Rimmer Covington, Wadsworth, Middleton, and Everett also played an important part of the Rock attack.

"We put a lot of pressure on their goal from the beginning of the game," stated Coach Andy Kivlan.

"If you can maintain pressure, something has to give. Their goal, without taking anything away from them, was a momentary breakdown by our defense. Our offense was controlling the game up front and we got a little lachrymose in the back. This can't happen in close games. Overall, I can honestly say that the boys played well. They moved the ball, passed it to the flags and crossed it to the goal. When you can do this with consistency the ball is bound to go in the net."

The final game of the season for the junior Rocks will be this Saturday in Slidell against Pope John Paul. Kickoff is set for 9am.

Rocks announce 1995 schedule

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Brannon LeBlanc, head football coach at SSC, has announced the 1995 Rock-a-chaw schedule. The Mississippi High School Activities Association has revamped the districts once again to try and improve the play of the teams.

St. Stanislaus, Hancock, and Bay High will once again be in the same district. However, some changes have been made. SSC will not be in District 8. They will now participate in District 7 with Hancock High School, Pearl River Central, Oak Grove, Petal, Picayune, and Bay High. The Rocks will remain in Class 4A.

The Rocks open their football season on August 25 with a home game against the St. John Eagles. Next, they will travel to Greene County for their first road trip on September 1. On September 8, the Rocks will host Long Beach. The Rocks will travel to North Forrest for their second road game on September 15.

The Rocks will have a two-game homestand starting on September 22 against Hancock High School and then host the Mercy Cross Crusaders on September 29.

On October 6, the Rocks travel to Pearl River Central to take on the Blue Devils. The Rocks will host the Oak Grove Warriors on October 13 and travel to Petal on October 20.

The Rocks' last home game of the 1995 season will be played against the Picayune Maroon Tide on October 27.

The Rocks will end their season by traveling to Joe D. McCullough Stadium to take on their cross-city rivals, the Bay High Tigers. The cross-town battle-royale will take place on November 3.

All home games are played in "friendly confines" of the Brother Philip Memorial Stadium, "in between the walls."

The head coach is Brannon LeBlanc. The assistants are Larry Ramsey, Stace McRaney, Jay Ladner, Tim Burns, Chuck Genin, and Gale McRaney.

Ingalls gets two Aegis destroyers

The U.S. Navy awarded Ingalls Shipbuilding in Pascagoula a contract totalling $739 million for the construction of two Aegis guided missile destroyers, according to U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor and U.S. Senator Trent Lott.

"This contract will help ensure that America is capable of protecting its interests anywhere in the world," said Taylor.

"Furthermore, this award reaffirms the Navy's confidence in Ingalls and its workers' ability to deliver an outstanding vessel."

Lott said, "I am proud of the people at Ingalls for the tremendous job they are doing at providing the U.S. Navy with these state-of-the-art Aegis destroyers."

The Navy's Arleigh Burke (DDG 51) Class Aegis guided missile destroyer is designed to provide primary protection for the Navy's battle forces.

The ships' main mission is to escort carrier groups. The Aegis system is also designed to operate in several multi-threat environments.

The two ships awarded to Ingalls are scheduled for delivery in June 2000 and December 2000.

Navy approves $27 million upgrade for Stennis Center super computer

The Navy has approved a $27.2 million project to upgrade the Cray super computer vital to the oceanography research underway at the Stennis Space Center in Hancock County, U.S. Senator Trent Lott announced.

The Cray C-90 is the current state-of-the-art super computer in the U.S. and is used by the Navy at Stennis for research in a number of environmental prediction systems.

"Some of these systems provide navigational information to the Department of Defense along with commercial ships," Lott said.

"Others provide up to the minute weather predictions to both military and commercial aircraft and ocean-going vessels. The modification approved by the Navy will enable these important systems to perform more efficiently and with greater accuracy."

ter accuracy."

"This level of technology is invaluable to the U.S. military and to the private sector," Lott said. "With the weather prediction systems upgrade, Stennis will continue to play a pivotal role in developing and implementing pertinent research for aircraft and ocean going vessels."

The expected date of completion for the project is September 1995.

Michaelson receives national award

Sherry E. Michaelson, who recently received the John Marshall Award from Attorney General Janet Reno, has been selected by the U.S. Postal Service for an additional honor.

She was the recipient of the Chief Postal Inspector's Award for "extraordinary effort" as lead prosecutor of the perpetrators of massive health care fraud against the government and several insurance providers.

This award is not normally given to federal prosecutors; the last previous award was earned by the Attorney General when she was U.S. Attorney in Florida.

Michaelson, who was Assistant U.S. Attorney in Los Angeles while working with the Postal Service on the fraud case, recently left the federal government to return to private law practice.

Michaelson, a former student of St. Joseph Academy, Bay High School, University of Texas and New York University Law School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Michaelson of Bay St. Louis.

Highway safety speakers available

Speakers, with valuable suggestions on preventing highway tragedies, are available for any organization in the state at no cost.

Sponsored by the Mississippi Association of Highway Safety Leaders (MAHSL), an organization of highway safety authorities from law enforcement and other fields, this speakers' bureau offers the latest information on preventing highway tragedies.

"In 1993, the number of individuals killed on Mississippi highways went over 800 for the first time in 20 years," said Donald O'Cain, governor's representative for highway safety, "and many more sustained permanent injuries. Most of these deaths and injuries could have been prevented by a better understanding and application of highway safety techniques."

According to Mary Ann Lewis, MAHSL chairman, "the valuable information provided by the professionals in our speakers' bureau has the potential of saving lives." She said it's a practical message that can benefit every person who travels on Mississippi highways.

Speakers may be obtained by telephoning 359-7822 or 359-7017, or writing to MAHSL Speakers' Bureau, Mississippi Division of Public Safety Planning, Box 23039, Jackson, 39225-3039.

MDOT receives award

MDOT receives national award

According to Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) executive director Robert L. Robinson, the Department placed second behind the Virginia Department of Transportation in the 22nd annual Federal Highway Administration/Keep America Beautiful Awards competition for its "high quality and extensive public awareness and environmental improvement efforts." The Tennessee DOT placed third.

Stennis airport receives almost $344,000 for improvements

The Department of Transportation (DOT) has approved a $343,892 grant to make improvements at Stennis International Airport in Hancock County, the state's two U.S. senators announced. U.S. Senators Trent Lott and Thad Cochran said part of the litter program," Robinson said. "It shows a dedication and commitment on the part of the Mississippi Transportation Commission, MDOT employees and the citizens of this state who participate in such programs as Adopt-A-Highway and Adopt-An-Interchange."

Robinson said in addition to the adoption programs, MDOT's focuses on changing behavior through education. Representatives from the Department present a program to children in grades K-3 about the detrimental effects of litter. The kids are shown a cartoon and given a coloring book, a pencil and a book marker to keep. The Department also helps fund People Against Litter (PAL), a non-profit, statewide affiliate of Keep Mississippi Beautiful. A majority of PAL's efforts focuses on training educators so they can pass the message on to their students. To create a more favorable first impression, the Department last year implemented a program to enhance major entrances into Mississippi. Mowing, litter removal, landscaping and improved signage and road surfaces are given top priority.

The Mississippi Transportation Commission, Zack Stewart, Wayne Burkes and Ronnie Shows, feel a litter-free state makes a favorable first impression in the eyes of both visitors (tourists) and industry, thus enhancing the overall economy.

Fisher records PR in Houston Marathon

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Melva Fisher, of Bay St. Louis, recently competed and completed the 23rd Annual Houston Marathon.

The marathon showcased 6,326 runners from all over the country. Fisher finished the marathon in a personal best 4 hours and 13 minutes.

This was her third marathon. She most recently competed in the Rotary Beach Marathon that was held last year from Ocean Springs to Pass Christian. Only a half marathon was sponsored by the Rotary Club due to the increase of traffic and problems on Highway 90 this year.

When asked how she prepared for the marathon, she responded, "I used to run on the average of 18-20 miles per week. However, when I started to train for this marathon, I increased my mileage to about 50 miles per week. I also included at least one long run on one day of the week. I trained about four to five months for this one."

What are you going to do now?

Fisher commented, "I am going to rest now. I'm tired. It was the most amazing thing I've ever done. They had so many competitors, it was unbelievable. I am thinking about the New York Marathon next year, maybe!"

Along with the Houston Marathon, there was the Downtown 5000. Bay St. Louis was represented in that race also. Jerry

ra and Gordon Stanbro all competed in the Downtown 5000. That 5K had more than 1,500 participants in it.

Four to receive awards

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The All-American Football Foundation's Kickoff Banquet is being held on February 13 at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi.

Four Little All-America football players from Mississippi will receive awards at the banquet. Hugh Laurin Pepper and Bucky McElroy, the University of Southern Mississippi, Willie Richardson, Jackson State University, and Reverend David McIntosh of Millsaps College will all be recognized at the Pepper and McElroy were Southern Mississippi's famed one-two punch of 1952 and 1953. They gained more yards combined than Oklahoma's Heisman Trophy winner Billy Vessels and Buck McPhail.

Pepper signed a major league baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates and did not play his last year at USM. Pepper also became one of Mississippi's most successful football coaches. He lives in Ocean Springs.

Bucky McElroy played his professional football with the Chicago Bears and Montreal before an injury forced him from the game. He is a very successful businessman in his hometown of Monroe, La.

Richardson played with the Baltimore Colts during his stint in the pros. He returned to JSU after he finished with his pro career.

Reverend McIntosh, who will also give the invocation at the dinner, played at Millsaps College in Jackson. He was a break-away running back for the Majors in 1947.

For more information on the dinner call 601-948-0562.

Locals win tickets to Superbowl XXIX

Lionel Deagano and Mary Klein were the winners in Bayou Caddy's Jubilee Casino's Football Jubilation promotion.

For having the most number of correct teams during the 16-week promotion, each received four tickets to attend Superbowl XXIX in Miami. They also received $4,000 each in cash.

Deagano has attended three prior Superbowls, paying $15 in admittance for Superbowl II, which pitted the Kansas City Chiefs against the Minnesota Vikings.

The Kiln resident plans on taking his daughter, son-in-law and 10-year-old granddaughter. He correctly picked 135 teams throughout the season.

Klein, a Bay St. Louis resident, will attend her first Superbowl with her husband, son and daughter—all of whom were very excited to learn she had won the tickets. Klein, an avid fan, had correctly picked 128 teams.

Josephine Holbrook of New Orleans had the least number of correct picks throughout the football season and received $2,000 in cash, along with a subscription to a magazine of her choice.

President

Crosby promoted

Keith Crosby, long-time President Casino employee and former director of community relations, has been appointed assistant general manager of The President Casino-Biloxi.

Crosby's new position will incorporate community relations duties, such as interacting with local clubs, schools and organizations into new responsibilities, including guiding the food and beverage, security, cashier and marine operations departments.

Prior to pioneering the community relations director position, Crosby served as director of casino marketing for The President since prior to the casino's 1992 opening in Biloxi.

Crosby began his employment with President Casinos Inc. in February, 1991 serving as casino controller then director of casino marketing for the company's first riverboat casino, The President Casino in Davenport, Iowa.

Originally from Allentown, Pa., Crosby attended Widener University in Chester, Pa., where he received a BA degree in liberal arts.

Crosby became affiliated with the gaming industry immediately upon graduation from college by serving as the administrator of operations at Merv Giffin's Resorts in Atlantic City, N.J. from 1978 to 1991.

Crosby participates in numerous local organizations and serves on the board of directors for the Biloxi Bay Chamber of Commerce and the Fisher House Board of Trustees at Keesler Air Force Base.

Crosby also serves on the Boy Scouts of America Steering Committee, Kids Voting Mississippi Inc. and teaches a weekly junior achievement class at Central Junior High in Gulfport.

He is currently serving as secretary for the Mississippi Casino Operators Association

Register now for GCRL field study

Registration is underway for the summer field study program at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, according to Dr. Charles K. Eleuterius, academic coordinator.

GCRL are open to all qualified college students with junior standing who wish to broaden initial education gained in basic science courses.

Classes for the 1995 session include oceanography, marine invertebrate zoology, marine ecology, marine phycology, marine chemistry, coastal ecology for teachers, marine biology, marine ichthyology, marine mammals, marine aquaculture and fauna and faunistic ecology of salt marshes, seagrasses and sand beaches.

GCRL is administered by the University of Southern Mississippi Credits earned by students during GCRL's 10-week two-term summer program will be transferred from USM to their home institutions upon course completion.

Students have a unique opportunity to enhance classroom experiences through field studies which allow study of plants and animals in their natural habitats, as well as physical and chemical processes of marine and coastal environments.

Most classes take weekly trips on laboratory vessels to explore local water, the Gulf of Mexico and the barrier islands.

Students from 61 affiliated colleges and universities in Mississippi and 17 other states are eligible to attend GCRL's summer program. Students from other institutions are accepted on a space-available basis.

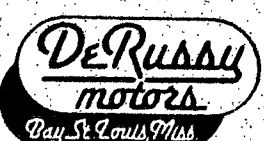

Registration deadline is May 1, but students are encouraged to apply early because of limited class sizes. Call 872-4201 for information.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Gallotte-Breland

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scott Gallotte
Katherine Summer Breland became the bride of Michael Scott Gallotte of Gulfport at a 2 p.m. ceremony Dec. 17, 1994, at the Lutheran Church of the Pines in Waveland. Pastor Vernon Knight officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Fred and Cassie Green of Waveland. The groom is the son of Janelle and Larry Gallotte of Gulfport.

Wedding music was provided by Jay Heitzman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of ivory bridal satin with an organza overlay. It featured a sweetheart neckline, heavily beaded and appliqued bodice with a drop basque waistline. The gown had short capped sleeves with beaded lace appliques. The back of the gown went into a deep "V". The skirt was floor-length with a cathedral-length train. The hem was deeply adorned with beads and lace appliques.

Matron of honor was Hope Proulx. Bridesmaids were Michelle Rauxet and McKenzie Breland, sister of the bride.

Larry Gallotte, Jr. served as best man. Ushers were Mike Shaw and Adam Bohl. Junior ushers were Jacob Myers and Isaac Breland.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The couple lives in Oxford where the groom will attend the University of Mississippi.

Pre-nuptial activities

A rehearsal dinner was given at the Waveland Resort Inn by the parents of the groom.

An engagement party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Steven Summers at their home in Waveland. Theme was "Stock the Bar."

Stennis Space Center participates in National Engineers Week

In keeping with NASA's long-standing commitment to education, many engineers at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center (SSC) will be participating in National Engineers Week Feb. 19-25.

During this week, engineers will be available to conduct classroom presentations at elementary, middle and high schools in St. Tammany Parish, La. and Pearl River, Hancock and Harrison counties. The presentations demonstrate how math, science and engineering work hand in hand.

Theme of National Engineers Week is "Engineers: Turning Ideas into Reality." In the presentations, SSC personnel will illustrate how engineering affects lives every day — from the blaring of alarm clocks in the morning to traveling over high-rise bridges on the way to work and school. Fax machines, cellular phones and shopping malls are also a result of engineering.

National Engineers Week offers educators a unique opportunity to cultivate interests in math, science and engineering to today's youth and tomorrow's engineers.

"The populations of students entering into the fields of math and science have declined. Research indicates that in the lower grades, we need to create as much excitement as possible in math and science," said Dr. David Power, manager of Stennis Space Center education affairs.

"Feedback from teachers and engineers who have participated in past National Engineers Week activities said the students have shown a very positive response."

Last year, 50 SSC engineers visited 64 schools and spoke to more than 7,000 students.

Engineers interested in conducting presentations for the National Engineers Week should contact Sherrill Reynolds at the NASA Teacher Resource Center, Stennis Space Center, at (601) 688-3338 no later than Jan. 31.

Enrollment up at USM

The University of Southern Mississippi's total spring semester enrollment is up 53 students over last year as late registration continued Friday.

As of last week, the university spring enrollment for all campuses was 11,866, this semester compared to 11,813 at the same time a year ago — or an increase of 0.4 percent.

The latest total included 10,330 students registered on the Hattiesburg campus this spring compared to 10,323 last year; and 1,536 at USM's three Gulf Coast campuses compared to 1,490 a year ago.

The increase of 46 students at the USM/Gulf Coast centers — located at Long Beach, Gautier and Keesler Air Force Base — represented a 3.1 increase over last year at those campuses.

"Our course enrollment (student credit hours generated) was 3,956 as of last week — a 1 percent increase over last year and the highest-ever for the Gulf Coast centers," said Sheila White, spokesman, for USM's Gulf Park campus in Long Beach.
